

Francis Upritchard and Martino Gamper

Upritchard, a New Zealand artist who calls London home, has made a name for herself with attenuated figurative sculptures with a vaguely unsettling medieval vibe. Here, she teams up with husband Gamper, a furniture maker whose works offer a surreal mix of styles, materials and functionality, usually within the same piece. Upritchard's sculptures are paired with Gamper's tables, chairs and pedestals, creating a sort of oddball designer showroom or domestic stage set. *Anton Kern Gallery, 532 W 20th St (212-367-9663, antonkerngallery.com).
